SHELF LIFE

Display favourite possessions in the best possible way

Adaptable individual shelves can be lined up to display a few special or small items on a narrow wall or in an alcove. Minimal matt white Como shelves, £85 each, from Boconcept.

ON SHOW

1 As the Viltro shelving unit, just £50 from Ikea, fits into a narrow space, it's especially useful for small items and towels in a bathroom. It comes in black or pale fine-grained birch 2 Custom-built shelving makes the most of available space. The Bramham boot room, £6,480 from Daval, includes a seat and shelves for shoes and baskets 3 With an artisan feel, the Teramo oak shelving unit, £870 from Ercol, has a clear matt finish to show off the wood grain. Overhanging shelves have decorative side bars that mean it can be used for books 4 At home in the living room or the kitchen, the Flexe round metal wall shelf, £215 from Pib, is divided into sections to hold smaller items 5 Show off your glassware or ceramics in the streamlined Art Deco display unit, which comes in dark wood with an antique brass-painted finished frame, £449 from Furniture Village 6 Black glass shelves on glossy stainless steel, £2,995 from Sweetpea & Willow, make an impressive display area for glamorous possessions ►
